Timeshare Owners Get Buying, Selling, Scam-Proofing Tips from Experts at Local Conference

In economic times like these, steadily increasing bills are the last thing anyone needs. But that's exactly what many timeshare owners are facing. Skyrocketing maintenance fees. Surprising new expenses. And of course the constant postcard invitations to high-pressure scamfests in crowded hotel banquet rooms!

But timeshare owners will have the opportunity to get the straight talk, perspective and guidance they need when five of the most respected experts in the business gather for a conference on April 19:

- Steve Luba, expert in selling and renting timeshare properties
- Woody Cary, president of Platinum Interchange timeshare
- Lisa Anne Schreier, author of Timeshare Vacations for Dummies and Surviving a Timeshare Presentation
- Shep Altshuler, publisher of TimeSharing Today, The Independent Voice of Vacation Ownership

They will be offering hard-to-find insights on topics such as:

- Purchasing a timeshare for less than five figures
- Finding ethical exchange companies who charge no membership fees
- Recognizing and avoiding scams and spiels
- Making informed choices to get buyers for a timeshare

Participants in the conference can get personal questions answered by the expert presenters and exchange priceless tips, alerts, and hard-won experience with other timeshare owners.

Located near the Baltimore-Washington International Airport, the conference is open only to members of the National Timeshare Owners' Association. The NTOA invites timeshare owners throughout Maryland to join and recoup their $90 membership fee by attending this rare opportunity to meet face-to-face with five of the leading experts in the business.

As the only advocacy organization run by and for timeshare owners, the NTOA is dedicated to providing educational and networking opportunities to access honest and outstanding vacation service. Not to mention providing the resources and clout that enable NTOA members to buy, sell, or rent timeshares at a fraction of the developer's price.

NTOA membership can yield thousands of dollars in savings. A short list of member benefits includes:

- Exclusive admission to networking conferences
- Deep members-only discounts on buying or selling a timeshare
- Reduced closing costs for direct timeshare transfers
- Discounted costs and liability protection for renting a timeshare

"The bottom line?" says founder and president Ed Hastry. "The NTOA is the only organization of its kind that is 100% on the side of the timeshare owner. As we like to say, Educated Owners = Happy Owners!"
